

CHATEAU LA VERRIERE

BORDEAUX Rosé (Dry rosé)

Ownership & history:

The Bessette family has been making wine for four generations. The talented owner-winemaker Alain Bessette is named among the 'Talents de Bordeaux Supérieur' every year, a shortlist of top winemakers in the AOP, and his wines consistently win prizes and accolades.

Vineyard & location:

The estate is out to the east of the Bordeaux appellation in the village of Landerrouat.

Harvest, vinification & ageing:

The nose shows tropical fruit and floral aromas, and the mouth is ample. This wine can be enjoyed on its own or as an excellent accompaniment to roast chicken.

Tasting:

There are two ways of making rosé wine. One method, known as 'rosé de saignée', makes for fairly powerful wines, whereas the other method, direct pressing, results in more aromatic, refreshing wines. The rosé from La Verrière is a blend of wine obtained from both methods.
