

2019 Domaine Lois Louise Twisty Ridge

OVERVIEW

With caves tunneling deep into a vine-covered ridge in the Santa Cruz Mountains and vineyards so steep they have to be farmed with a T.J. Rodgers designed tractor moved by cables. Clos de la Tech is one of the most ambitious and innovative Pinot Noir producers in California. The winery was established in 1994 and continues to be operated by T.J. Rodgers, founder and retired CEO of Cyress Semiconductor, and his wife and winemaker, Valeta. Some of the highlights at Clos de la Tech include extreme growing conditions, high-altitude terrain, vine-by-vine farming, high-density planting (average of 4150 vines per acre), low yields, innovative equipment, gravity-flow winery, whole cluster fermentation with native yeast, and no filtration.

VINEYARD

The “Twisty Ridge” block runs along the upper ridge line at 1,700 feet at Domaine Lois Louise. The site features a thin layer of topsoil over fractured rock, and it is planted to Dijon clones.

WINE MAKING

The fruit was hand-harvested between September 26th and October 25th. After a 5-7 day cold soak, the grapes underwent traditional vinification methods including foot crushing, whole cluster fermentation with native yeast, malolactic fermentation on lees and gravity transfer (no pumping). The wine was aged in François Frères barrels (Bertrange Forest) for 17 months and hand bottled unfiltered.

WINEMAKER'S COMMENTS

Nose: Intense and very distinct; displaying ripe fruit character of plum jam, raspberry, with an underlying herbal-floral spiciness.

Palate: Round, full-bodied, and fairly rich, with velvety texture and fine grain tannins.

Summary: A fuller styled Pinot Noir that is ripe and complex in flavor.
